SUBJECT: Application to the Department of Housing and Urban Development (DHUD) for Public Housing Project

SUMMARY

This report recommends approval of an application to the Department of Housing and Urban Development (DHUD) for funds for fifty (50) public housing units for large families. The project is to be accomplished through acquisition and rehabilitation of existing units, principally single-family homes.

BACKGROUND

The Department of Housing and Urban Development has issued a notice inviting eligible Public Housing Authorities to submit applications for fiscal year 1989 for new public housing projects. Priority will be given to housing consisting of three or more bedrooms per unit. Applications were to be submitted to the Sacramento HUD office by April 14, 1989.

Public Housing Authorities (PHA's) may apply for new construction projects, acquisition or acquisition and rehabilitation, or for major reconstruction of obsolete public housing projects. Priority will be given to projects involving acquisition of existing units. HUD may only approve a new construction project if it is demonstrated that new construction would cost less than acquisition or acquisition and rehabilitation, or if the PHA certifies, accompanied by supporting documentation, that there is insufficient existing housing to undertake the development of housing through acquisition of existing housing or rehabilitation. In accord with the above priorities a project involving acquisition and rehabilitation is proposed for this year.

It is proposed that projects be dispersed in accord with the previously adopted fair share allocation goals and to meet HUD's project selection criteria (minimize impaction, provide opportunities for minorities outside of areas of minority impaction and to provide improved locational opportunities for lower income families). Additionally, neighborhood revitalization/preservation will be considered as a goal under the rehabilitation program and will be a factor in our selection of sites should this application be approved. Projects selected may range from single family homes up to medium sized family projects (although few are available in the three bedroom range). We will report back with recommended sites at a later date should the application be approved.

FINANCIAL DATA

Total development costs allowed by HUD for 50 three bedroom units is $3,147,500, or $62,950 per unit. Costs will be paid by HUD through a grant.

Based on previous experience, it is unlikely that units can be acquired and rehabilitated for this amount to the quality and amenity standards previously demanded by the City and the Communities in which they would be located. Additionally, efforts to locate units in accord with the adopted Fair Share Plan will result in increased overall costs per unit.

Based on recent experience, $10,000 to $15,000 per unit of local funds will be necessary to accomplish the project. A specific financial program for this local contribution will be developed for consideration if and when one or more awards is received.

A "front-end" ACC will also be requested for anticipated planning and coordination expenses in connection with the dispersal concept. The amount of the "front-end" ACC will be based on a formula established by HUD.

ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT

In accordance with National Environmental Protection Act, the proposed action is categorically excluded 58.35(i)(ii) aquisition, construction, reconstruction rehabilitation of public facilities retaining same use, size, capacity and character. In accordance with California Environmental Quality Act, the proposed action is a categorical exemption 15301 Class 1(d) and (e) restoration, rehabilitation or reconstruction within restricted incroases in floor area and square footage.
